TWO KILLED IN CRASH ON CCC HIGHWAY

Car and Truck Collide Head-on On Slick Road

Washington C. H. Men
In Car Meet Death
In Twisted Wreckage

Two Washington C. H. men lost their lives in the first traffic fatalities in Fayette County this year when the car in which they were riding and an eastbound trailer-truck crashed head-on on the slippery Columbus Highway, a half mile west of Madison Mills, Thursday at 11:15 P. M.

The two men are Noah Stanley Stant, 54, of 1122 Rawlings Street, and Otis Ernest Storer, 58, of 1012 Broadway.

Stant, driver of the car was killed outright and Storer was so badly injured that he was pronounced dead when he reached Memorial Hospital in the Gerstner ambulance.

Sheriff Orland Hays, who, with his two deputies and state highway patrolman E. S. Holloway, checked the accident, stated that the truck, a large Mack, was driven by Ralph McCracken of Cleves, Ohio.

Stant and Storer were employed at the State School for Youths at Orient, and had left that institution shortly after 10 P. M., to come to their homes here.

THE CCC HIGHWAY was "very slippery" at the spot where the accident occurred, Sheriff Hays said. The car was so badly crushed that both men were pinned in the front seat. It was necessary for the wrecker to pull part of the crushed car away before the body of Stant could be extricated. at the Hidy Service Station on Columbus Avenue.

McCracken, driver of the truck, was quoted as saying that the Stant car, as it approached, dimmed its lights and, when only a short distance from the truck, skidded in front of it.

The car was knocked into the ditch on the west side of the road and the truck turned almost completely around in the road, and was partly facing back toward Washington C. H.

Stant sustained a fractured skull, fractured legs, crushed chest, cuts and bruises and internal injuries. Storer sustained fractured bones, internal injuries, crushed chest and cuts and bruises.

After carefully checking the scene of the accident and both vehicles, Sheriff Hays expressed doubt that the Stant car was on the wrong side of the road, as it was struck in the left side. He said other indications left the cause of the accident in doubt.

STANT HAD resided in Washington C. H. for many years. He is survived by his widow, Cora, three sons and a daughter, Joe, Gerald and Charles, all of Springfield, and Miss Gloria Mae at home. He also leaves two granddaughters, Robert and Wendell Kimball of Washington C. H.; two granddaughters, three brothers, Andrew, of near New Holland; Walter, Highland County; William, California and a sister, Mrs. Maude Reed, of New Holland.

He was a veteran of the first World War.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 10:30 A. M. at the Gerstner Funeral Home and burial will be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 P. M. Saturday. Storer, also a veteran of the first World War, is survived by his widow, Verda; a son, Rodger V.; one step-son, Gerald L. Shaw, both of Washington C. H., and two brothers, Nelson and Lonnie Storer of Adams County.

The Gerstner Funeral Home is in charge of the service, the time of which has not yet been announced.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 P. M. Saturday.

This Guy Gets Bang From Life

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. (P)—Boyd Crumley, 27, gets pretty much of a bang out of life. He makes a business of blowing himself up with dynamite.

A carnival performer who makes his home here, Crumley draws about $600 a week for a twice-daily show. He cuddles up with the dynamite in a thin wood box while wearing a crash helmet.

Crumley bought the secret from another performer who lost an arm and a leg.

Israel Given Stern Warning

U. N. Council Censures
Nation For Attack

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—Israel was under stern notice today that the U. N. Security Council may use its powers of punishment against her if the Israelis continue attacks across their Arab neighbors' frontiers.

The warning came in a Western-sponsored resolution the 11-nation council adopted unanimously here late yesterday.

The resolution condemned the Israeli attack Dec. 11 on Syrian outposts northeast of the Sea of Galilee as a "flagrant violation" of the Palestine armistice and Israel's U. N. Charter obligations. It said if Israel ignored its obligations in the future, the council will have to consider "further measures under the charter."

The charter empowers the council to punish an aggressor with a diplomatic boycott, economic blockade or even military action, and to call for expulsion from the U. N. of any country that consistently violates the charter.

ISRAELI DELEGATE Abba Eban told the council he feared the resolution would be interpreted as endorsement of Arab belligerency toward Israel. Israel contends the attack was in retaliation for Syrian shelling of Israeli boats on Galilee, which lies just inside Israel's territory.

The resolution noted Syrian "interference" with the Israeli activity on the lake but said "this interference in no way justifies the Israeli action." Fifty-six Syrians and six Israelis were killed in the raid; Israel has reported only several persons wounded as a result of the Syrian shelling.

It was the fourth council censure of a big Israeli border raid, but the first to warn of possible future penalties. The U. N. body has never censured an Arab country for frontier military actions, although Israel has complained of hundreds of Arab "violations."

Hillsboro Girl Wins Battle For Railroad Crossing Safety

COLUMBUS (P)—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio today ordered flasher lights installed at the scene of a fatal train-car crash that caused a little girl to appeal to President Eisenhower.

The father of nine-year-old Pamela Sue Huff of Hillsboro lost his life at the New York Central Railroad double track crossing over Sellers Road near Moraine in the Dayton area.

An attorney examiner for the commission, Lewis S. Witherspoon, had recommended both flasher lights and short arm gates, at an estimated cost of $19,889. Flasher lights alone would cost $1,200.

Pamela's father, James W. Huff, died in the accident Dec. 12, 1954. He was returning home from work at a plant near the crossing.

Pamela wrote the President the following April. The letter was referred to the Interstate Commerce Commission which, in turn, passed it on to the PUCO.

Firemen Oppose Boost In Pay

PASCOAG, R. I. (P)—Volunteer firefighters in Northern Rhode Island are against a proposal to raise the pay of volunteers at forest fires from 65 cents to $1.50 an hour.

They expressed fears at a meeting last night that some firemen would turn fire fighting into a "racket."

Noah Stant, driver of the car, was still pinned behind the wheel when this picture was taken at the Hidy Service Station here. The cables (left) come from the wrecker which was pulling the smashed auto apart to release Stant's body. A passenger, Otis Storer, also died in the crash. ### City's Residential Area To Be Brightly Lighted When New Lights Put Up

Within the next few weeks, virtually the entire residential area of Washington C. H. will be flooded with more than twice as much light as it is now—if council takes the last step necessary to have modern and brighter street lights installed.

The first step was taken by council at its last session when it approved the appropriation for changing the present 235 present 235 street lights of 1,000 lumens (a measure of light) for lights of 2,500 lumens.

The present lights cost $25 a year; the brighter ones will cost $30 a year. All told, the street lighting appropriations amount to $19,000.

City manager James F. Parkinson and A. E. Weatherly, manager of this Dayton Power & Light Co. district, have gone over the new program and now the DP&L is working out the plans for installing the new lights.

BEFORE a contract is entered into, it will be necessary for council to adopt an ordinance authorizing it.

Meanderings By Wash Fayette

During the early days of Fayette County and continuing until about the time the automobile radically changed the normal way of life by greatly broadening the scope of activities, popcorn played an important part in the family routine.

In those days popcorn was produced for home consumption and practically every farm family and many city residents who had the ground to do so raised popcorn.

Popping corn and making popcorn balls was one of the main pastimes and means of enjoyment when folks made evening visits.

It was always part of the hospitality to pop corn, crack hickory nuts, serve apples, and (particularly among the people of German extraction) to serve clabber.

However, while popcorn still has its place, it is not what it used to be at the home.

Recently I received from the Popcorn Institute in Chicago, some information on how to restore the pop to popcorn after it has dried out and the pop is missing.

This method is simple: Place in airtight container with cloth dampened with salt water and keep in cool place or freezer. Let stand 24 hours. Test, and if it fails to pop, repeat the performance. Sounds worth trying doesn't it.

Athens County GI Dies In Jet Crash

CLOVIS, N. M. (P)—First Lt. Roger B. Cox, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cox, Trimble, Athens County, Ohio, was killed yesterday on a training mission when his F86H jet fighter plane crashed six miles south of Tucumcari.

Clovis Air Force Base, where Cox was stationed with the 387th Fighter-Bomber Squadron, said cause of the accident was unknown. Cox' wife, Barbara Jean, lives in Clovis.

BROILING HEAT sent hundreds of Fayette County residents rushing to the Washington Park swimming pool a short six months ago to cool off in the water, wear as little as the law would allow and get in a bit of sport. Now, with wintry weather shutting in the area, the pool (top picture) is deserted and blanketed with snow. But youngsters, like Joan Shockey, 9, and Marty Lynch, 8, (bottom picture) can get fun from almost anything even snow. Joan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Shockey of 422 4th Street. Marty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lynch of 822 Sycamore Street. (Record-Herald photos)

Farmers and Kids Like Snow

(By The Associated Press)
Ohio today was wrapped in a blanket of snow. Farmers and some school children revelled in it while city residents and those who travel the highways were not as gay about the white stuff.

To the farmer, it meant needed moisture for parched lands; to some school pupils it meant an unscheduled vacation.

Ohio and the entire eastern half of the nation got the big snowfall which came from a storm which developed in the Southwest and moved northeastward toward the Atlantic coast. The Weather Bureau said 8 1/2 inches fell yesterday in Cincinnati, 7 in Wilmington, 6 in Dayton, 5 in Zanesville, Toledo, Columbus and Mansfield, 4 in Findlay, 3 in Youngstown and Cleveland and 2 in Akron.

State highway patrolmen said highways were "snow covered and slippery for the most part. We are trying to discourage all traffic."

The Weatherman indicated today in his five-day forecast that winter would hang on for a while. His prediction:

Temperatures will average 3 to 6 degrees below normal, normal high 35-41; normal low 20-24. Cold over weekend, warmer Monday and colder Tuesday, snow likely Monday or Tuesday.

The Ohio highway department reported roads generally slippery north of a line marked by Bryan, Tiffin, Wooster and Youngstown. Most highways south of this line were reported slippery in spots.

State highway crews and city street departments were in the midst of the job of cutting ribbons into the blanket of snow.

It was a welcome blanket for school children, especially in the southern part of the state. County schools in many areas were recessed until Monday.

The weatherman forecast occasional snow flurries for the east and north portions of Ohio today.

Cincinnati's 8 1/2 inches of snow was the heaviest in five years and the sixth deepest in a 24 hour period on record. Middletown had a record 8.2 inches of snow. Seven inches fell in Wilmington in 11 hours.

Snow fell during the night and morning from the lower Great Lakes region eastward to the Mid-Atlantic states southward as far as West Virginia and Maryland.

Early reports indicated fairly heavy falls, with 4 inches reported in Baltimore and 3 inches in Philadelphia. The storm headed in New York and New England.

Snow measured up to 10 inches in some areas hit by the mid-January storm yesterday. The storm center, weakening as it moved from the Gulf northeastward along the western slopes of the Appalachians, dumped snow over most of the Ohio Valley and the Mid-Atlantic states. There was rain, sleet or freezing rain in the Carolinas and Virginia.

Traffic was disrupted in many cities and driving conditions were hazardous on highways.

But to farmers in areas where there has been little precipitation this winter the snow was hailed as welcome relief to dry farm lands. In Texas, a state official described the snow as worth "millions and millions" to

Mad Dog Killer Reported Seen In Many Areas

Ohio and Missouri
Reports Say He Was Seen There Today

DAYTON (P)—Ohio police today joined officers from four other states in a grim search for a "mad dog killer" who escaped from an Indiana jail and since has been a phantom, being reported seen in wide-separated places.

The escapee, Leslie Irvin, escaped while under sentence of death for one slaying and accused of five others. He has been reported seen in nearby Vandalia, in Missouri and in Indiana. Police of Illinois and Indiana were leading the manhunt.

Leslie Irvin

The Missouri state highway patrol received a report from a waitress at a restaurant-motel near St. Louis last night that she had recognized a man as Irvin from a television picture she had seen.

Early today, a bus depot employee in Rolla, Mo., 110 miles southwest of St. Louis, told the patrol she had seen there a man closely fitting Irvin's description.

The most concentrated search was being conducted in the Evansville, Ind., area and in nearby sections of Kentucky and Illinois.

INDIANA police said they had received an unverified report that a man of Irvin's description was seen driving a dark colored car near New Albany, across the river from Louisville, Ky. Also an unidentified motorist reported a man who resembled Irvin had attempted to force him off the road between New Castle and Muncie in east central Indiana.

The Montgomery County sheriff's office here said Irvin was reported seen in a Vandalia motel-restaurant about 1:20 a. m. today.

Five persons told sheriff's deputies that two men entered the Auto Motel for coffee and left shortly afterwards. The five said they recognized Irvin as one of the pair from newspaper pictures.

The state highway patrol put out a statewide alert after an unidentified man reported he was robbed just outside of Dayton at 2:40 a. m. by two men traveling in a green automobile. The victim told authorities the car bore Illinois license plates.

The patrol said it had a report from Indiana police that Irvin and another man were reported to have stolen a vehicle fitting this description.

MEANWHILE, Evansville law officers and witnesses in Irvin's murder trial were given police guards as they hunted the 31-year-old former pipefitter.

Irvin, convicted of killing an Evansville man and also charged with killing two Indiana women and three members of a Kentucky family, had been scheduled for transfer Monday to the Indiana State Prison at Michigan City to await execution June 12.

Irvin, held in jail in Princeton, Ind., during the appeal period which followed his conviction and sentencing in Gibson Circuit Court, was missing at breakfast time Thursday.

Four jail doors had been either unlocked or locks picked. Sheriff Earl Hollen said, "There had to be some outside help," adding one man could not have opened the doors himself from the inside.

Irvin was described as a stocky 200-pounder, 5 foot 11 inches tall, with dark brown wavy hair, brown eyes and ruddy complexion. When he left the jail he was wearing a dark blue suit and gray overcoat and was bareheaded.

Early Robin Here A Bit Mixed Up

All bird watchers in Fayette County can relax now.

The first robin of Spring — or the last one of fall — has been spotted.

Arthur Engle, with a day off from the Vocation Department faculty of the Washington C. H. High School, spotted the early bird a few yards from his home on the Jones Road Friday morning.

Engle isn't sure it's the first robin of Spring. "If he is he's out of his mind," he said.

Speculation offers several other possibilities. He might just be confused. He might be a robin that decided to stay here, preferring Fayette County's winter attractions to the warmth of Florida and other southern resorts.

He might even think it's summer.

One way or another, he's bound to be the Spring's first robin.

You've spent 31 months of the last five years in hospitals. You've had 13 operations—the most recent, ironically, on Friday, Jan. 13. Your left foot is paralyzed; a nerve was pinched in one of three auto accidents in which you've been battered.

You have no job. You walk painfully with crutches. Money is running low. What do you do?

"You pray," says George C. Thomas. He knows. All this happened to him. And the ordeal still is not over.

Thomas' first hint of what was to come was in 1950, when he awakened in the night, ill, and called his wife. He was bleeding from stomach ulcers. After recovering from emergency surgery, in the following years he has:

AGAIN HAD a ruptured ulcer, slipped six discs in his spine when a stairway collapsed, had a bone graft operation to repair the spine damage, suffered severe burns on his left arm when he ignited oil-soaked papers in an incinerator, dislocated his neck twice in auto accidents, broken a bone in his knee in a fall and, in still a third auto mishap, suffered a fractured hip, two fractures of the knee, broken ribs and a splintered shin bone.

Good Hope Lions Given Pointers

Zone Chairman
Attends Meeting

Treacherous roads and a snowy wintry night could not cool the enthusiasm of the members of the new Lions Club at Good Hope and 37 of the 42 charter members were at Wayne Hall Thursday night for the dinner and meeting that followed.

The chairman of this zone of the organization, John Reese of Jamestown, was at the meeting to explain the importance and the functions of the standing committee of the Lions Clubs.

Accompanying Reese was Hubert Saunders of Jamestown. He did not take part in the program, however.

Also at the meeting were four guests, Gordon Cowdery and Richard Snyder of the Bloomingburg club and Tom Mark and Frank Weade of the Washington C. H. club.

A part of the business session was devoted to laying plans for the new Good Hope club to be represented by a big delegation at the Jan. 31 joint meeting of all four Lions Clubs in Fayette County—those at Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville, Good Hope and Washington C. H.

The meeting this year is to be held at the Country Club here and the Washington C. H. club is to be the host.

For several years—until less than two months ago—this was called the annual Tri-Club meeting; now that there is a club at Good Hope, the name will have to be changed and this may provide some interesting discussion.

This was the first meeting of the new Good Hope club since its charter was presented with considerable ceremony last month.

Most Of Traffic Lights On Strike

Most of the up-town traffic lights suddenly stopped functioning shortly after noon, Friday, with indications that water from the melting snow had seeped into one of the circuit boxes and shorted the wires similar to a previous outage of the lights.

Traffic was taking the situation by moving slowly, and "keeping an eye on the other fellow." Workmen were summoned to trace the trouble and get the lights working as soon as possible.

The incident again shows the need of a modern system of lights where no leaks can cause shorts, such as now being planned by the city.

One of them grabbed and threatened Mrs. Jarrett just as she got out of an auto.

Then they grabbed the money from Jarrett and ran.

Jarrett recalled he was robbed of $5,000 in a similar holdup just nine years ago last Tuesday.

Six from Here At Ike Meeting

Snow and ice and slippery highways to the contrary notwithstanding, six loyal Republicans from here and another from Chillicothe went to Cincinnati Friday afternoon for the big Eisenhower dinner at the Netherland Plaza Hotel in the evening.

Others in the party were Walter Sollars, a former Fayette County GOP chairman; Jess Maddux, the present chairman; Cliff Hughes, one of the county commissioners; Alvin Armbrust; Eldon Armbrust and Joe Clark of Chillicothe.

The dinner at Cincinnati is for Republicans — and all backers of President Eisenhower — in southwestern Ohio; it is one of many being held at the same time all over the country.

The program is a double-feature: (1) President Eisenhower is to address the meetings via a nationwide closed television hookup and (2) Sen. Duff of Pennsylvania is to deliver an inspirational talk to the gathering in person.

Officers Re-elected By Savings and Loan

The First Federal Savings and Loan Association here today was starting another year under the guidance of the same officers and directors.

Re-elected at the annual meeting Thursday were Glenn Woodmansee, president; Hoy O. Simons and Robert R. Meriweather, vice presidents; Walter Rettig, executive vice president and secretary, and Miss Mary Frances Snider, the assistant secretary and treasurer. Other members of the board of directors are Arthur Finley, Ormond Dewey, W. H. Lovell, Edmond Woodmansee and John E. Sheppard.

In the report of the year's business, which always is a part of the annual meeting, 1955 was described as the biggest and best year in the history of the institution that deals primarily in real estate loans and savings accounts.

Rettig attributed the big year's business largely to the growth of Washington C. H. and the wave of home building during the past year.

Dividends, amounting to more than $80,000, were authorized by the directors.

Mad Dog Killer

Bryant, 57, Palestine, Ill., awaiting trial for a triple killing, saw him escape.

Bryant insisted he knew nothing about the escape, but he later told Sheriff Hollen he saw Irvin dress and leave the cell between 10 and 11 p. m. Wednesday. Bryant said he saw no accomplices and did not know how Irvin managed to unlock the doors.

Prosecutor Paul B. Weaver, who directed the prosecution that brought the death penalty for Irvin, wore a .38-caliber pistol and said, "I'm taking no chances. Irvin's mind doesn't work like other people's."

Officers Re-elected By Savings and Loan

The First Federal Savings and Loan Association here today was starting another year under the guidance of the same officers and directors.

Reelected at the annual meeting Thursday were Glenn Woodmansee, president; Hoy O. Simons and Robert R. Meriweather, vice presidents; Walter Rettig, executive vice president and secretary, and Miss Mary Frances Snider, the assistant secretary and treasurer. Other members of the board of directors are Arthur Finley, Ormond Dewey, W. H. Lovell, Edmond Woodmansee and John E. Sheppard.

In the report of the year's business, which always is a part of the annual meeting, 1955 was described as the biggest and best year in the history of the institution that deals primarily in real estate loans and savings accounts.

Rettig attributed the big year's business largely to the growth of Washington C. H. and the wave of home building during the past year.

Dividends, amounting to more than $80,000, were authorized by the directors.

Danny Armbrust, a pupil of Mrs. Stanforth's fourth grade at Cherry Hill, gave an excellent resume of his recent trip to Florida with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Armbrust.

Danny told of his visit to Rainbow Springs, Clearwater, Lakeland, Marineland, Bok's Tower and one day spent in deep sea fishing.

They then journeyed to Cypress Gardens, Miami, and the Everglades. During his talk, he also exhibited postcards of each place visited, shell collection, star fish and stuffed alligator.

The return trip home included a visit to Washington D. C. where they saw the White House, Lincoln's Monument and the Capitol Building. Before returning home, they stopped at Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington, where they saw the slave quarters and the inaugural carriage. Danny was quite impressed by the huge stables.

From here, he toured the Holy Lands by service car and bus. His itinerary took him through Asia, touching 15 different countries of the world and three continents.

Enroute, he saw King Hosusian of Jordan and Pope Pius.

His film tells the story of his experiences in Europe and the Near East, shows the sacred spots in the land where Jesus once walked with His apostles, points out some of the most recent developments and modernization of Bible Lands including Israel and Arab country.

He will touch upon the world's number one problem — "The Arab and the Jew" and show the distinct difference between Christian and non Christian civilization. Rev. Norman D. Renn, pastor of the Baptist Church here, said,

Firms Advised To Act At Once

Furnish Withholding Statements Now

Business firms with large payrolls were asked today by Administrative Officer Arthur Cochran of the office of the Internal Revenue Service to release 1955 W-2 tax withholding statements to their employees as soon as possible, to help expedite the filing, payment and adjustment of many individual taxpayer returns.

With their W-2s in hand, Cochran pointed out, thousands of taxpayers will be able to prepare their income tax forms at once and send them in to the Internal Revenue Service office, Federal Building, Cincinnati, Ohio. Make checks or money orders payable to the Internal Revenue Service. Don't send cash, the revenue office asks.

"Many taxpayers come to our office with questions that could be answered by telephone in a few seconds and it would save time and energy if they used the telephone service," Cochran said. The telephone number for this service is Wilmington 2348.

The taxpayer needing assistance in the preparation of his return will receive more prompt attention by preparing as much of his return as possible and by not "waiting until the last minute," Cochran said.

Three other counties in this area showed gains for the week while Clinton, Highland, Madison and Pickaway counties showed slumps. In the state generally collections were $1,911,633 and dipped slightly below collections for the corresponding first eight days of 1955 by $33,446 according to State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy today.

The decrease reflected a decline of 1.7 percent for the current week against the comparative total of $1,945,079 a year ago for a period which included one extra day.

Religious Type Motion Picture To Be Shown Here Wednesday

The 72-minute motion picture film, "To the Land of the Book," is to be shown at the First Baptist Church here next Wednesday, starting at 7:30 P. M.

Rev. H. S. Gessner

The movie, in color, which depicts life and customs in various countries outside of the United States, was produced by Rev. H. S. Gessner, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Franklin, Ohio.

On July 5, 1955, Rev. Gessner left Dayton Municipal airport for London and the Near East. He returned on Aug. 19, after flying about 16,000 miles and traveling by bus and service car for another 2,500 miles. After one week's travel in Great Britain, visiting Shakespeare land, the Land of Scott including the Trossachs, Edinburgh, Bedford, other places and the historical sights of London, he flew to Paris, Rome, Athens and Beirut in Lebanon.

From here, he toured the Holy Lands by service car and bus. His itinerary took him through Asia, touching 15 different countries of the world and three continents.

Enroute, he saw King Hussein of Jordan and Pope Pius.

His film tells the story of his experiences in Europe and the Near East, shows the sacred spots in the land where Jesus once walked with His apostles, points out some of the most recent developments and modernization of Bible Lands including Israel and Arab country.

He will touch upon the world's number one problem — "The Arab and the Jew" and show the distinct difference between Christian and non Christian civilization. Rev. Norman D. Renn, pastor of the Baptist Church here, said.

The film has been shown in Church Associations, groups of churches, churches of various denominations, mixed groups of Jew, Catholic and Protestant, Service Club, Country Club, High School Assembly and many other places. Rev. Gessner has been pastor of the First Baptist Church of Franklin for almost 16 years. He has seen his congregation grow from 228 members to over 1,150 and his budget from less than $2,000 of over $45,000. On several occasions, his church has led all other American Baptist Churches in the state in number of baptisms.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

Danny Armbrust, a pupil of Mrs. Stanforth's fourth grade at Cherry Hill, gave an excellent resume of his recent trip to Florida with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Armbrust.

Danny told of his visit to Rainbow Springs, Clearwater, Lakeland, Marineland, Bok's Tower and one day spent in deep sea fishing.

They then journeyed to Cypress Gardens, Miami, and the Everglades. During his talk, he also exhibited postcards of each place visited, shell collection, star fish and stuffed alligator.

The return trip home included a visit to Washington D. C. where they saw the White House, Lincoln's Monument and the Capitol Building. Before returning home, they stopped at Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington, where they saw the slave quarters and the inaugural carriage. Danny was quite impressed by the huge stables.

Firms Advised To Act At Once

Furnish Withholding Statements Now

Business firms with large payrolls were asked today by Administrative Officer Arthur Cochran of the office of the Internal Revenue Service to release 1955 W-2 tax withholding statements to their employees as soon as possible, to help expedite the filing, payment and adjustment of many individual taxpayer returns.

With their W-2s in hand, Cochran pointed out, thousands of taxpayers will be able to prepare their income tax forms at once and send them in to the Internal Revenue Service office, Federal Building, Cincinnati, Ohio. Make checks or money orders payable to the Internal Revenue Service. Don't send cash, the revenue office asks.

"Many taxpayers come to our office with questions that could be answered by telephone in a few seconds and it would save time and energy if they used the telephone service," Cochran said. The telephone number for this service is Wilmington 2348.

The taxpayer needing assistance in the preparation of his return will receive more prompt attention by preparing as much of his return as possible and by not "waiting until the last minute," Cochran said.

Sales Taxes Up In County First Week

Fayette County started the new year with a small gain in sale of prepaid sales tax receipts compared with those of the first week in January last week.

The figures for the recent week were $4,973.16 and for the first week last year $4,562.13.

Three other counties in this area showed gains for the week while Clinton, Highland, Madison and Pickaway counties showed slumps.

In the state generally collections were $1,911,633 and dipped slightly below collections for the corresponding first eight days of 1955 by $33,446 according to State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy today.

The decrease reflected a decline of 1.7 percent for the current week against the comparative total of $1,945,079 a year ago for a period which included one extra day.

A Merit System, Or Labor Union, For Teachers?

There is no class of people in the world who follow a more honorable profession than the school teachers of this nation.

However, it should not be taken for granted that every teacher is sincerely interested in aiding the school pupils rather than his or her own financial advancement. We all recognize that teachers should be well paid. Few if any individuals can be more effective in moulding the ideas of youth toward good citizenship.

For this reason it is somewhat disconcerting to learn that groups of teachers in some localities, especially in certain metropolitan areas, are leaning toward organization along certain Union Labor lines.

Particularly in New York state where the Teachers' Guild, a member of the old AFL, has shown a disposition to adopt some of the tactics of Union Labor leaders, appears out of line. Such a movement can spread over the country with probable disastrous results.

Some time ago, the New York Teachers Guild reportedly adopted a resolution on the heels of the recent merger of the AFL and the CIO praising the merger and declaring "We look forward to the day when . . . all teachers will be part of the organized labor movement".

Herrick Roth, vice president of the American Federation of Teachers, is said to have assertedly urged immediate steps to bring about collective bargaining for teachers. At present there is no state with legislation sanctioning it.

Action to this end will, in many people's opinion, may produce grave problems for the responsible members of the dignified and honorable profession of teaching as well as for every parent and every child of school age.

We have already had isolated instances over the country of teachers' going on strike and picketing their own schools while their perplexed pupils looked on. Are we to have a whole profession, held in high esteem since the dawn of history, to be turned into a commercial labor union?

If and when that day comes, will the children of America be any longer able to look to their school teachers as friends and instructors wholly free to dedicate themselves solely to their (the children's) welfare?

Instead of such means of advancement, why couldn't there be a well worked out merit system adopted for determining the salaries of teachers? In some places this is said to have been undertaken with success. Certainly teachers should be well paid for their work, but is that the most important consideration? They are human, just like the rest of us, but they should achieve advancement in accordance with their performance of duty.

In dealing with teachers, one is dealing with individuals and not in mass production of products. One teacher is worth so much, and is effective to a certain extent, and another teacher is effective to a different extent. The fact that they both have the same number of degrees or training, does not mean that they are equally effective.

It is said that when this system has been tried, in test periods, teachers have afterwards voted overwhelmingly in favor of it. The question is one for various boards and school officials to decide.

It seems to us that a teacher should prefer to be paid for his or her work. In other words, teachers would appreciate better pay for better service and better work in the school or college in which they are teaching.

Under such a system, automatic yearly raises would be eliminated, at least as far as they are supposed to be the teacher's full adjustment each year. A seniority raise, somewhat on the order of army seniority, might be maintained, but the major conditions which would determine the scale of pay would be the teacher's performance.

We believe such a system would give a new incentive to teachers to improve themselves, would provide a better level of instruction in schools and colleges, and would be fair to all concerned.

We presume that an honest effort is being made in most places, such as our own community, to achieve this merit system type of promotion and better salaries, but with the shortage of teachers, this often is difficult. It would be less so, however, if a whole state, or national, movement along this line could be well organized and made effective.

Diet and Health Eye Disease Strikes After Middle-Age

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Glaucoma, a most dangerous eye disease, usually can be halted by early treatment.

There are about 320,000 blind persons in this country. Of this number, one out of every eight is a victim of glaucoma. And once ing the Acheson regime of the State Department that his attitude toward Red China was soft. In the 1952 campaign, the Republicans made a great issue of China and made violent accusations against the Democrats and particularly against Dean Acheson. Such accusations were made often in this column during the years that George Marshall and Dean Acheson presided over our foreign policy. But this can now be said for them in retrospect. They sought some way out of the international dilemma in which the existence of Red China placed them, but they did not cave in before communist pressure.

sight is destroyed by glaucoma, it is gone for good.

Increased Pressure

With glaucoma, increased fluid pressure building up inside the eye slowly damages the nerves. Side vision usually goes first since the pressure strikes the fibers in the retina before damaging the retinal nerves which control the central vision.

Primarily, glaucoma is a disease of the middle-aged and the elderly. It is most apt to strike you if you are over 40.

How can you protect yourself from this disease? The best way is to have your eyes examined thoroughly at least once every two years if you are 40 or older.

Cloudy Vision

While acute glaucoma usually strikes suddenly with sharp pain around the eyes and cloudy vision, the slowly creeping chronic type is much more common. Chronic glaucoma often produces some of the following symptoms:

Frequent changes of glasses; loss of side vision, blurred or fog-

Warning Signals

Don't wait until some of these symptoms develop for that eye check. Glaucoma does not always give warning signals.

Drugs or an operation can usually reduce the eyeball pressure. Eye drops, if your doctor prescribes them, probably will have to be used for the remainder of your life.

Even after an operation or drug treatment, you're going to have to avoid emotional upsets — they might increase the fluid pressure — and you may have to limit television and movie viewing.

If you are a glaucoma victim, don't use belladonna, even if prescribed by your physician, without first checking with your oculist.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today asked Congress to approve a new, worldwide military building program to cost $2,012,283,000, more than half of it for the Air Force.

The program, included in the 1957 fiscal year budget submitted this week, covers projects at 292 defense installations.

One feature of the measure is provision for the sale abroad of $150 million of surplus farm products to defray the cost of some new military housing overseas.

Good Food Is His Religion

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—One of my favorite rebel dreams is to see a waiter at the Ritz spill a plate of soup on a celebrity.

"How often does this happen?" I hopefully asked Steve Terzano, the maitre d'hotel there.

Steve, who has been a high priest to two generations of international gourmets, lifted his eyebrows in horror.

"Never!" he exclaimed indignantly. "It could not happen. At the very worst a waiter might drop a hot plate to the floor. But spill something on a guest? Never! never! never!"

To Steve, who can spot a wrinkle in a napkin at 40 paces, such a thing would be a greater tragedy than the collapse of the Leaning Tower of Pisa. And particularly if it happened while he was on duty. While he is on the job, food is his religion, service in his god.

Except for 28 stomach-searing months in an Austrian prison camp during World War II, Steve, who was born in Italy, has spent the last 47 of his 61 years in Ritz hotels, first in Buenos Aires, then in New York. When the old Ritz was torn down several years ago, he and most of the staff moved up Madison avenue to the new Ritz restaurant in the plush Carlton House.

Steve deplores the hurried habits of today's harried diners, remembers fondly the days when people took their vitamins more leisurely.

"No meal should be eaten in less than an hour," he said firmly, "and it should be accompanied by a good French wine. Then you will live longer."

Many of Steve's longtime guests refuse even to look at the menu. They insist that he select for them, a task he thoroughly enjoys, for to him a good meal is like a table symphony.

What do celebrities like to eat? Here are some favorite dishes of some of the well-known people he has served:

Ronald Amundsen, the explorer—Corned beef hash topped with an egg.

Robert Montgomery and Queen Marie of Romania—Cold chicken with a liver pate.

Former Governor Thomas E. Dewey and George Jessel—Boiled beef.

Gladys Swarthout—Lobster thermidor.

Kate Smith and Tommy Manville—French lamb chops.

Grace Kelly and Wendell Willkie—Chicken hash.

Ex-President Herbert Hoover—Bouillabaisse.

Steve, who has selected hundreds of thousands of meals for notables, has his own idea of a dream meal—"the perfect dinner." His eyes sparkled at the thought.

"First, assorted hot canapes a la Ritz with a dry martini," he began dreamily, "followed by some black caviar and a nip of aquavit."

"Next, a cup of petite marmite, a soup made of chicken, beef, marrow and fresh vegetables, served with grated cheese and floating pieces of toast."

"Next, the fish, English sole veronique, cooked with white wine and white grapes and accompanied by a Rhine or Moselle wine."

"Next, tender string beans and tournedos gascen, a filet mignon with pate, invented by our general manager, Gaston Laurysen, and named in his honor. A good French Bordeaux wine with this, of course."

"Next, a vanilla soufflé with grand marnier liqueur, followed by a glass of champagne."

"Finally, coffee demi-tasse, with green creme de menthe for the ladies and a good French brandy for the gentlemen."

"After a dinner like that, it is to feel like you are in paradise. You will remember it the rest of your life."

What would it cost? Well, buying a dinner like that is like buying a yacht. If you're going to worry about price, you might as well forget the whole thing and order a hamburger.

Red China Recognition In 1957?

By George Sokolsky

It seems generally agreed among those who study such questions that in 1957, Red China will be elected into the United Nations and that the United States will not oppose such recognition. Historically that means that every American boy who gave his life in Korea died in vain and that it has become a precedent that a country can shoot its way into the United Nations.

The acceptance of the year 1957 for this foul deed is too general and therefore the assumption is tenable that some conversations occurred either at Geneva or between Dulles and Eden or that Stassen said something about it on his travels, so that the thing is repeated without author but with authority. The admission of four Soviet-enslaved nations into the United Nations cannot be re-open the question of Red China. Is, for instance, Red China more or less objectionable than Albania?

There are some signs. The Chinese Reds have been banging away at Matsu and Quemoy and nothing is said or done about it. As a matter of fact, causeways are being built to Amoy and Tatung and there is an airfield build-up on the mainland. The Chinese Nationalists are permitted to do nothing about it. American policy has forbidden the Chinese Nationalists to do anything to safeguard their defenses. They are held prisoners by an absurd policy that as Nationalist China is to be abandoned sooner or later, nothing should be done about it. This is a suicidal policy. General Liu Yu-Chang said of this:

"If our artillery was not restricted they would not be building the causeway."

It would be logical for the Nationalists to blow up the causeways that the Reds are building, and the sooner they are blown up, the less dangerous these military works would be to the future.

These are details. The general principle is more important. It is that while the United States gives the appearance of supporting the Nationalists, it has been State Department policy, since the days of George Marshall, to give the Chinese communists every opportunity to strengthen themselves. In fact, had it not been for Marshall's errors of judgment in trying to bring about a united front between the Nationalists and the communists, the communists would never have conquered China. There was one of those long truces, like at Panmunjom, which the communists always win by wearing out their opponents.

The question of the acceptance of Red China by the United Nations must be regarded as a long truce. We have been discussing the matter since 1949. Every year, the question comes up and wastes a lot of time. The Chinese Reds have been most skillful in wearing down the British, particularly Anthony Eden, who has never displayed any knowledge of the Far East which must psychologically be distasteful to him. Whenever the question arises, he is ready to give up the ghost. At any rate, that is the way he seems to act, and whatever he does makes a profound impression on our State Department for no reason whatsoever. We were all of the opinion dur-

A Merit System, Or Labor Union, For Teachers?

There is no class of people in the world who follow a more honorable profession than the school teachers of this nation.

However, it should not be taken for granted that every teacher is sincerely interested in aiding the school pupils rather than his or her own financial advancement. We all recognize that teachers should be well paid. Few if any individuals can be more effective in moulding the ideas of youth toward good citizenship.

For this reason it is somewhat disconcerting to learn that groups of teachers in some localities, especially in certain metropolitan areas, are leaning toward organization along certain Union Labor lines.

Particularly in New York state where the Teachers' Guild, a member of the old AFL, has shown a disposition to adopt some of the tactics of Union Labor leaders, appears out of line. Such a movement can spread over the country with probable disastrous results.

Some time ago, the New York Teachers Guild reportedly adopted a resolution on the heels of the recent merger of the AFL and the CIO praising the merger and declaring "We look forward to the day when . . . all teachers will be part of the organized labor movement".

Herrick Roth, vice president of the American Federation of Teachers, is said to have assertedly urged immediate steps to bring about collective bargaining for teachers. At present there is no state with legislation sanctioning it.

Action to this end will, in many people's opinion, may produce grave problems for the responsible members of the dignified and honorable profession of teaching as well as for every parent and every child of school age.

We have already had isolated instances over the country of teachers' going on strike and picketing their own schools while their perplexed pupils looked on. Are we to have a whole profession, held in high esteem since the dawn of history, to be turned into a commercial labor union?

If and when that day comes, will the children of America be any longer able to look to their school teachers as friends and instructors wholly free to dedicate themselves solely to their (the children's) welfare?

Instead of such means of advancement, why couldn't there be a well worked out merit system adopted for determining the salaries of teachers? In some places this is said to have been undertaken with success. Certainly teachers should be well paid for their work, but is that the most important consideration? They are human, just like the rest of us, but they should achieve advancement in accordance with their performance of duty.

In dealing with teachers, one is dealing with individuals and not in mass production of products. One teacher is worth so much, and is effective to a certain extent, and another teacher is effective to a different extent. The fact that they both have the same number of degrees or training, does not mean that they are equally effective.

It is said that when this system has been tried, in test periods, teachers have afterwards voted overwhelmingly in favor of it. The question is one for various boards and school officials to decide.

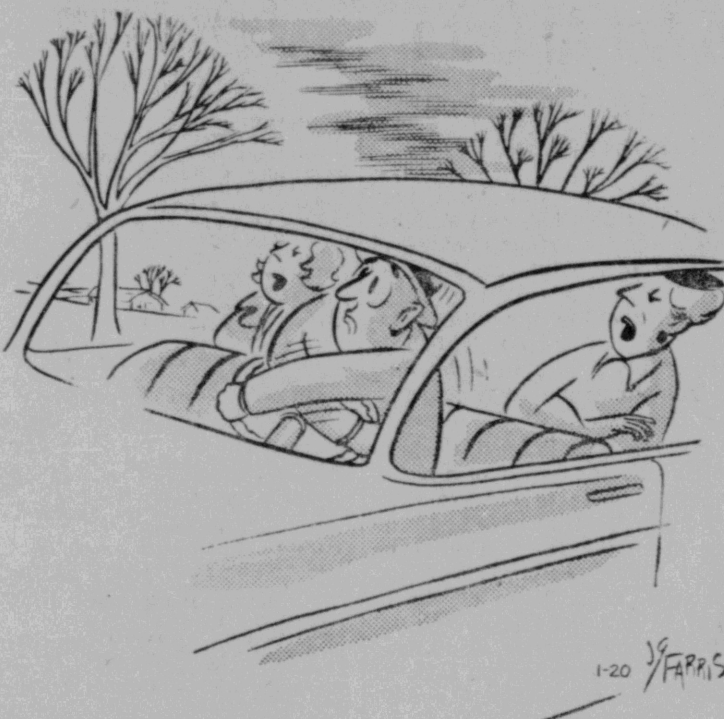

It seems to us that a teacher should prefer to be paid for his or her work. In other words, teachers would appreciate better pay for better service and better work in the school or college in which they are teaching.

Under such a system, automatic yearly raises would be eliminated, at least as far as they are supposed to be the teacher's full adjustment each year. A seniority raise, somewhat on the order of army seniority, might be maintained, but the major conditions which would determine the scale of pay would be the teacher's performance.

We believe such a system would give a new incentive to teachers to improve themselves, would provide a better level of instruction in schools and colleges, and would be fair to all concerned.

We presume that an honest effort is being made in most places, such as our own community, to achieve this merit system type of promotion and better salaries, but with the shortage of teachers, this often is difficult. It would be less so, however, if a whole state, or national, movement along this line could be well organized and made effective.

Diet and Health Eye Disease Strikes After Middle-Age

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Glaucoma, a most dangerous eye disease, usually can be halted by early treatment.

There are about 320,000 blind persons in this country. Of this number, one out of every eight is a victim of glaucoma. And once ing the Acheson regime of the State Department that his attitude toward Red China was soft. In the 1952 campaign, the Republicans made a great issue of China and made violent accusations against the Democrats and particularly against Dean Acheson. Such accusations were made often in this column during the years that George Marshall and Dean Acheson presided over our foreign policy. But this can now be said for them in retrospect. They sought some way out of the international dilemma in which the existence of Red China placed them, but they did not cave in before communist pressure.

sight is destroyed by glaucoma, it is gone for good.

Increased Pressure

With glaucoma, increased fluid pressure building up inside the eye slowly damages the nerves. Side vision usually goes first since the pressure strikes the fibers in the retina before damaging the retinal nerves which control the central vision.

Primarily, glaucoma is a disease of the middle-aged and the elderly. It is most apt to strike you if you are over 40.

How can you protect yourself from this disease? The best way is to have your eyes examined thoroughly at least once every two years if you are 40 or older.

Cloudy Vision

While acute glaucoma usually strikes suddenly with sharp pain around the eyes and cloudy vision, the slowly creeping chronic type is much more common. Chronic glaucoma often produces some of the following symptoms:

Frequent changes of glasses; loss of side vision, blurred or fog-

Let me emphasize that these symptoms do not necessarily mean you have glaucoma. Maybe the trouble is much less serious. But you should have a complete eye examination as quickly as possible.

Warning Signals

Don't wait until some of these symptoms develop for that eye check. Glaucoma does not always give warning signals.

Drugs or an operation can usually reduce the eyeball pressure. Eye drops, if your doctor prescribes them, probably will have to be used for the remainder of your life.

Even after an operation or drug treatment, you're going to have to avoid emotional upsets — they might increase the fluid pressure — and you may have to limit television and movie viewing.

If you are a glaucoma victim, don't use belladonna, even if prescribed by your physician, without first checking with your oculist.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. G. P.: My baby had a high temperature and convulsions about four months ago. What is the best way to bring down a fever in order to prevent recurrence of convulsions?

Answer: Of course, you should call a doctor immediately when the baby has a very high temperature.

However, sponging the baby with half alcohol and half water and giving him an enema of cool tap water and small amounts of aspirin will help bring down the temperature until the arrival of the doctor.

Pentagon Asks OK On Building Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today asked Congress to approve a new, worldwide military building program to cost $2,012,283,000, more than half of it for the Air Force.

The program, included in the 1957 fiscal year budget submitted this week, covers projects at 292 defense installations.

One feature of the measure is provision for the sale abroad of $150 million of surplus farm products to defray the cost of some new military housing overseas.

Good Food Is His Religion

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—One of my favorite rebel dreams is to see a waiter at the Ritz spill a plate of soup on a celebrity.

"How often does this happen?" I hopefully asked Steve Terzano, the maitre d'hotel there.

Steve, who has been a high priest to two generations of international gourmets, lifted his eyebrows in horror.

"Never!" he exclaimed indignantly. "It could not happen. At the very worst a waiter might drop a hot plate to the floor. But spill something on a guest? Never! never! never!"

To Steve, who can spot a wrinkle in a napkin at 40 paces, such a thing would be a greater tragedy than the collapse of the Leaning Tower of Pisa. And particularly if it happened while he was on duty. While he is on the job, food is his religion, service is his god.

Except for 28 stomach-searing months in an Austrian prison camp during World War II, Steve, who was born in Italy, has spent the last 47 of his 61 years in Ritz hotels, first in Buenos Aires, then in New York. When the old Ritz was torn down several years ago, he and most of the staff moved up Madison avenue to the new Ritz restaurant in the plush Carlton House.

Steve deplores the hurried habits of today's harried diners, remembers fondly the days when people took their vitamins more leisurely.

"No meal should be eaten in less than an hour," he said firmly, "and it should be accompanied by a good French wine. Then you will live longer."

Many of Steve's longtime guests refuse even to look at the menu. They insist that he select for them, a task he thoroughly enjoys, for to him a good meal is like a table symphony.

What do celebrities like to eat? Here are some favorite dishes of some of the well-known people he has served:

Ronald Amundsen, the explorer—Corned beef hash topped with an egg.

Robert Montgomery and Queen Marie of Romania—Cold chicken with a liver pate.

Former Governor Thomas E. Dewey and George Jessel—Boiled beef.

Gladys Swarthout—Lobster thermidor.

Kate Smith and Tommy Manville—French lamb chops.

Grace Kelly and Wendell Willkie—Chicken hash.

Ex-President Herbert Hoover—Bouillabaisse.

Steve, who has selected hundreds of thousands of meals for notables, has his own idea of a dream meal—"the perfect dinner." His eyes sparkled at the thought.

"First, assorted hot canapes a la Ritz with a dry martini," he began dreamily, "followed by some black caviar and a nip of aquavit."

"Next, a cup of petite marmite, a soup made of chicken, beef, beef marrow and fresh vegetables, served with grated cheese and floating pieces of toast."

"Next, the fish, English sole veronique, cooked with white wine and white grapes and accompanied by a Rhine or Moselle wine."

"Next, tender string beans and tournedos gasson, a filet mignon with pate, invented by our general manager, Gaston Laurysen, and named in his honor. A good French Bordeaux wine with this, of course."

"Next, a vanilla soufflé with grand marnier liqueur, followed by a glass of champagne."

"Finally, coffee demi-tasse, with green creme de menthe for the ladies and a good French brandy for the gentlemen."

"After a dinner like that, it is to feel like you are in paradise. You will remember it the rest of your life."

What would it cost? Well, buying a dinner like that is like buying a yacht. If you're going to worry about price, you might as well forget the whole thing and order a hamburger.

Red China Recognition In 1957?

By George Sokolsky

It seems generally agreed among those who study such questions that in 1957, Red China will be elected into the United Nations and that the United States will not oppose such recognition. Historically that means that every American boy who gave his life in Korea died in vain and that it has become a precedent that a country can shoot its way into the United Nations.

The acceptance of the year 1957 for this foul deed is too general and therefore the assumption is tenable that some conversations occurred either at Geneva or between Dulles and Eden or that Stassen said something about it on his travels, so that the thing is repeated without author but with authority. The admission of four Soviet-enslaved nations into the United Nations cannot be re-open the question of Red China. Is, for instance, Red China more or less objectionable than Albania?

There are some signs. The Chinese Reds have been banging away at Matsu and Quemoy and nothing is said or done about it. As a matter of fact, causeways are being built to Amoy and Tateng and there is an airfield build-up on the mainland. The Chinese Nationalists are permitted to do nothing about it. American policy has forbidden the Chinese Nationalists to do anything to safeguard their defenses. They are held prisoners by an absurd policy that as Nationalist China is to be abandoned sooner or later, nothing should be done about it. This is a suicidal policy. General Liu Yu-Chang said of this:

"If our artillery was not restricted they would not be building the causeway."

It would be logical for the Nationalists to blow up the causeways that the Reds are building, and the sooner they are blown up, the less dangerous these military works would be to the future.

These are details. The general principle is more important. It is that while the United States gives the appearance of supporting the Nationalists, it has been State Department policy, since the days of George Marshall, to give the Chinese communists every opportunity to strengthen themselves. In fact, had it not been for Marshall's errors of judgment in trying to bring about a united front between the Nationalists and the communists, the communists would never have conquered China. There was one of those long truces, like at Panmunjom, which the communists always win by wearing out their opponents.

The question of the acceptance of Red China by the United Nations must be regarded as a long truce. We have been discussing the matter since 1949. Every year, the question comes up and wastes a lot of time. The Chinese Reds have been most skillful in wearing down the British, particularly Anthony Eden, who has never displayed any knowledge of the Far East which must psychologically be distasteful to him. Whenever the question arises, he is ready to give up the ghost. At any rate, that is the way he seems to act, and whatever he does makes a profound impression on our State Department for no reason whatsoever.

We were all of the opinion dur-

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You

This is my Tithe. Let us not attempt to 'Tip' God for His benefits. Jesus said, "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, and I will pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Mal. 3:10. Jews and Christians agree that a tenth part of one's income is the accepted tithe. He said, to those who fail to give back a tenth part... "ye have robbed me in tithes and offerings."

"The Earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof"; Psalms 24:11. May we write our tithing check freely. May we give back to the Lord a tenth of what He has so graciously and so abundantly given us. It is God's plan for financing His church. Christ approved it as the best way to carry on His work in the world. This is My Tithe.

You In The Church... The Church In You
Form a combination for good. We should attend church regularly. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be faithful. Be a Churchman!

Cage Games Are All Called Off

Bad Roads, School Closing Stops Play

You've heard of meatless Friday, fishless Friday and—on the thirteenth—luckless Friday. This time, it's basketball-less Friday hereabouts.

Every high school game scheduled for Friday night in this area has been postponed, along with the closing of schools, because of the snow and treacherous road conditions.

Of the games called off, only one has been rescheduled and that date is still indefinite and subject to change.

New Holland, scheduled to play Darby on the New Holland court, has tentatively set Feb. 10 as the date for the game, according to Kenneth Craig, New Holland school superintendent.

Washington C. H. High School's Lions, who were to have the Indians from Hillsboro here, will play them eventually. John Trace, WHS principal, said that the game will be rescheduled when Coach Richard Filbin recovers from a severe winter cold.

Coach Bob Hildreth of Jeffersonville High School said the game with Good Hope scheduled for tonight has been postponed for a couple of weeks because of a crowded schedule. The date will be set after conference with Alexander More, the Good Hope Mad Anthony's coach.

Bloomington and Madison Mills, also slated to play tonight, will reschedule the game, according to Bloomington Coach Everett Rudolph.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A host of stars, including Olympic gold medalists, Pan American winners, U.S. titlists and college champions, run and jump in indoor competition tonight at the 12th annual Philadelphia Inquirer Track Meet. But a group of local collegians are the outstanding favorites.

Despite the sizable import of track names, Villanova athletes are favored to approach their Boston showing last week wherein they scored six triumphs in the K of C Games.

Villanova men favored heavily are Charley Jenkins in the 600-yard run, Ron Delany in the mile and little Phil Reavis in the high jump. The Villanova mile relay team of Tippy Maliff, Rowland Simpson, Al Peterson and Jenkins is the choice in that event.

Others on Coach Jim Elliott's squad who may post wins are George Snyder in the 50-yard dash and Don Bragg in the pole vault.

Tough opposition will come from Mal Whitfield, two-time Olympic 800-meter champion, and Reggie Pearman in the 600; Len Truex, Joe Deady and Joe LaPierre in the mile; IC4A titlist Willie Lee, Charles Holding and Bob Barksdale in the high jump; and Olympic king Lindy Remigio, Andy Stanfield and Pan American champ Rod Richard in the 50-yard dash.

In the mile relay, Villanova will face stiff opposition from Morgan State, Seton Hall and Pittsburgh.

Pistons Defeat Hawks By 90-83

NEW YORK (AP)—The Fort Wayne Pistons last night defeated the St. Louis Hawks, the western NBA tailenders, 90-83.

Meanwhile, the third-place Minneapolis Lakers dropped a 122-100 decision to the Syracuse Nationals in the league's only other game.

The results moved Fort Wayne three and a half games ahead of the idle Rochester Royals and dropped Minneapolis a half game behind the runners-up.

Turner Favorite To Trip LaBua

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Free-swinging Gil Turner of Philadelphia is a 3-1 choice to make it two straight over Jackie LaBua of East Meadow, N. Y., in their return 10-rounder tonight.

The bout will be broadcast and telecast at 10 p. m. EST.

Cage Games Are All Called Off

Bad Roads, School Closing Stops Play

You've heard of meatless Friday, fishless Friday and—on the thirteenth—luckless Friday. This time, it's basketball-less Friday hereabouts.

Every high school game scheduled for Friday night in this area has been postponed, along with the closing of schools, because of the snow and treacherous road conditions.

Of the games called off, only one has been rescheduled and that date is still indefinite and subject to change.

New Holland, scheduled to play Darby on the New Holland court, has tentatively set Feb. 10 as the date for the game, according to Kenneth Craig, New Holland school superintendent.

Washington C. H. High School's Lions, who were to have the Indians from Hillsboro here, will play them eventually. John Trace, WHS principal, said that the game will be rescheduled when Coach Richard Filbin recovers from a severe winter cold.

Coach Bob Hildreth of Jeffersonville High School said the game with Good Hope scheduled for tonight has been postponed for a couple of weeks because of a crowded schedule. The date will be set after conference with Alexander More, the Good Hope Mad Anthony's coach.

Bloomington and Madison Mills, also slated to play tonight, will reschedule the game, according to Bloomington Coach Everett Rudolph.

Patty Berg Holds Tournament Lead

TAMPA, Fla. (P)—Veteran Patty Berg held a one stroke lead over Mickey Wright with the second round coming up today in the $5,000 Tampa Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Patty, woman athlete of the year for 1955, clipped four strokes off par with a 71. Miss Wright, from San Diego, Calif., lost a chance to tie for the lead by three-putting No. 18. High winds bothered most of the field of 121.

Novice Race Horse Owner Has Troubles

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—John Serkin, 25-year-old tool and die maker, is having to stick to his job in Detroit, so he can keep his thoroughbred race horse in Florida.

Last September, Serkin won over 27,913 others in a "name the horse" contest at Hazel Park Racetrack in suburban Detroit.

He chose the name "Hititucky," and his prize was the bay filly.

Hazel Park officials offered Serkin $6,000 for the prize but he turned it down, saying all his life he'd wanted to own a race horse.

Hititucky was shipped to Florida to get ready for a winter racing campaign.

In a quarter-mile sprint for 2-year-old fillies Jan. 3 the filly ran ninth in a field of a dozen.

Hititucky tried again yesterday in a 3-furlong sprint for maiden 2-year-olds. There were 14 entered and Hititucky was last all the way.

Racing officials estimate it costs about $10 a day to keep a thoroughbred in Florida during a winter season.

Jess Hill Quitting Southern Cal Post

LOS ANGELES (P)—This will be Jess Hill's last year as football coach at the University of Southern California. He will succeed Willis O. Hunter as director of athletics in August 1957, when Hunter reaches retirement age of 65.

President Fred D. Fagg Jr. announced the future athletic setup late yesterday.

Hill obviously will have a hand in the naming of his successor as head coach but Dr. Fagg said:

"We have talked to none about a coaching job at the university. We will organize a committee of people who know the requirements and we will have a selection in time for the 1957 season."

baugh, who hit .281 in 111 games at Nashville.

Cleveland Club Cites 4 Gridders

CLEVELAND (P)—Two college and two professional football stars were among those honored by the Cleveland Touchdown Club at its annual awards dinner last night.

Howard Cassidy, Ohio State's All-America halfback, was given the award as the best college player last year.

Otto Graham, who retired at the end of last season after a 10-year career as quarterback for the Cleveland Browns, was presented the Helms Award.

The club's award for outstanding service to the Browns in 1955 went to center Frank Gatski.

Harold Carroll, Western Reserve University star, received the award as the outstanding local college player.

Theology Student Shuns Pro Pact

WHEATON, Ill. (P)—A Wheaton College theology student who plans to become associate pastor of a Baptist church in Akron yesterday turned down an offer to play professional football with the Washington Redskins.

"I am called to the ministry of the gospel," explained Dave Burnham, 21-year-old senior.

Burnham, a 180-pound, 6-foot-2 backfield ace, was named to the Associated Press Little All-America team last season. He gained 3,498 yards in 39 games at Wheaton to set school and College Conference of Illinois records.

Souchak Leading Calienta Open

TIJUANA, Mex. (P)—Mike Souchak held a two stroke lead today as he led the field into the second round of the $12,500 Calienta Open Golf Tournament.

Souchak, 28, carded a 7-under par 65 yesterday. Nearest to Souchak, the former Duke University end, were Frank Stranahan, Toledo; Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif.; and amateur Rod Funseth of Spokane, all with 67.

Following were Tony Huguin, 68, Tommy Bolt, Bo Wininger and Fred Haas, 69, and Gene Littler and Jim Turnesa at 71.

Rookie Harry Holtsma of the St. Louis Cardinals had a 13-3 mound record with Houston in 1955. He worked in 109 innings and had a 2.64 earned run mark.

Charles Hire Speaks
On Drawing Wills

Judge Max G. Dice was chosen for the new president of the Washington C. H. chapter of Sympsiarch and Charles S. Hire for the vice president at the annual election following Thursday evening's dinner.

They will take office at next month's meeting and be at the head of the chapter when the national convention of the organization is held here April 6 and 7.

The secretary and treasurer and executive committee are appointed by the president, with the confirmation of the members. John Bath has been the secretary and Charles A. Fabb has been the treasurer ever since the chapter was established five years ago.

Judge Dice will succeed Hugh B. Sollars in the presidency and Hire will follow in Judge Dice's footsteps as the vice president.

There was better than 90 percent attendance at the meeting in spite of the snow and hazardous driving conditions.

Walter (Bill) Weaver, Delta Kappa Epsilon at Miami University, was the only guest of the evening.

HIRE ALSO was the speaker of the evening for this organization which has a policy of providing its after-dinner program through its own membership.

He was introduced by Robert Terhune, who hit some of the highlights of his background and traced his career as an attorney from the time he was graduated from McClain High School in Greenfield.

"A will is an important document and it does not take long to execute one," Hire declared after he had talked for more than half an hour on "Wills and Legacies."

He described various forms of wills in simple language that was largely stripped of the legal phraseology that frequently is no confusing to the layman.

He emphasized that a will need not be a formal and stylized legal document and pointed out that it may be written on almost anything. The important thing, he said, is that it is witnessed by two competent individuals.

His talk was spiced with several anecdotes and quotations from some unusual (and amusing) wills.

Following the meeting, committee chairmen met informally with the chapter president and Belford F. Carpenter, the national president, to go over some of the preliminary plans for the national convention.

Judge Dice, the incoming president and the general chairman of the convention, said it was still much too early to tell how many would be here but the consensus of the group was that between 50 and 100 Sympsiarchs would come from half a dozen midwestern states.

Farmers Like Snow

farmers suffering from winter drought.

In St. Louis, where there had not been measurable precipitation in 47 days, the longest drought in the area's history, snow measured more than 2 inches. Four deaths were attributed to the storm in Missouri.

In Southern Illinois, where lands also were in need of moisture, the fall was to a depth of 8 inches in some places.

Snow diminished over most of the mid-continent during the night with only flurries reported this morning across the upper Great Lakes, parts of the Ohio Valley and the Northern Plains.

A belt of rain and snow extended from the Central Plateau region to the west slopes of the Rockies. Light rain fell in the Pacific Northwest.

Colder air spread south and eastward yesterday in the wake of the storm and temperatures dropped 10 to 20 degrees, into the 30s and 40s, in the Southeast. In Charlotte, N. C., the drop was from 61 to 38. Meanwhile, readings moderated in Texas and the Western Plains.

It was generally cold east of the Rockies today except in Florida and Southeastern states and southern parts of the Gulf states.

Coldest region again today was the Northern Plains with more below zero readings. It was -19 in Minot, N. D.

FFA Here Votes Awards for Two

Advisor Chosen For
Honorary Membership

The Washington C. H. Future Farmers of America didn't have to look far to find the top candidates for the honorary chapter farmer award which they make annually to the adults in the community who have done most to further the chapter's program.

They selected as their 1956 honorary chapter farmers Don Mercer, vo-ag instructor and FFA advisor at the high school here, and Fred Rost, clerk of the city school board.

Rost's office is an easy stone's throw from the FFA chapter room where the boys elected him to the honor. Mercer's office is even closer; it is the chapter room.

Having elected their advisor an honorary chapter farmer, the boys decided to dress him to fit the role.

AN FFA member reported, "It was brought out at the meeting that the advisor was wearing a T-shirt with West Virginia on the front. (Mercer taught in West Virginia last year). The chapter voted to buy Mercer a new T-shirt with Washington C. H. on the front."

Rost and Mercer will receive their honorary chapter farmer pins at the annual parents and sons banquet on March 17.

Other business of the meeting included setting up the machinery for selection of the FFA queen for the chapter. The girl must be a senior at WHS, must have an average of C or better in her high school subjects and must live on a farm of ten acres or more.

Dan Schlichter was chosen to head the committee which will draw up a list of the qualifying candidates. Other members of the committee are the seniors in the chapter.

Arrests Dwindle During Bad Weather

During the recent bad weather arrests here have been few and as a result municipal court cases have dwindled to almost nothing.

Friday morning Judge Max Dice had three cases, two of which were against the same man—Robert P. Foster, city, who was charged with driving 49 miles on South Fayette Street and for failing to stop for a stop sign.

On the first charge he drew $5 and costs and on the second charge a similar fine, but the fine in the latter case was suspended upon payment of the fine in the first case.

The other case was that of Richard L. Martin, McArthur, for passing a school bus while it was discharging pupils. Martin failed to appear, and his $25 bond was declared forfeited.

PAY INCREASED

SABINA — Salaries of firemen were increased by council, in the sum of $25 yearly. The fire chief draws $150 per year; two volunteer engineers $125 a year and 12 regular volunteers $100 per year.

Snake bits are inflicted with fangs, not their forked tongues.

David Parkinson Traps Car Thieves

Charles David Parkinson, son of City Manager and Mrs. James F. Parkinson, who is a sophomore and member of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps, at Ohio State University, was highly commended by the Columbus Police Department and Sohio Oil Co. for bringing about the arrest of three desperadoes, who were driving a stolen car in Columbus.

It all came about when the trio drove into the Sohio Service Station at Olentangy Boulevard and Fifth Avenue where Parkinson spent part of each night on duty in charge of the station.

The trio ordered gas and oil for the car in which they were riding and which bore Pennsylvania license plates.

Their general appearance and conduct aroused Parkinson's suspicions and this was further increased when they submitted an Ohio Sohio credit card in payment for the gas and oil.

When they left, Parkinson immediately notified the police department, giving license and make of the car, and a few minutes later the trio was halted on Cleveland Avenue and taken to headquarters.

It developed they were riding in a car stolen in Pennsylvania, had stolen the credit card in a burglary and were suspected of a series of other crimes.

THE COST OF MEDICAL CARE

★ That the cost of medical care has risen, no one can deny. But the rise has not been out of proportion to the general advance in the cost of living. At the same time the quality of medical service has been immeasurably improved.

Consider that today your physician has invested from eight to ten years and about ten thousand dollars in his education alone. He has no chance to earn until he is twenty-six or twenty-seven years old. He must have an office in a good neighborhood, good equipment, a car, good clothes.

Pharmacy, too, has stepped up its standards. Almost every state now requires four years of college and a year or two of practice before registration. All this adds up to better medical service for you.

farmers suffering from winter drought.

In St. Louis, where there had not been measurable precipitation in 47 days, the longest drought in the area's history, snow measured more than 2 inches. Four deaths were attributed to the storm in Missouri.

In Southern Illinois, where lands also were in need of moisture, the fall was to a depth of 8 inches in some places.

Snow diminished over most of the mid-continent during the night with only flurries reported this morning across the upper Great Lakes, parts of the Ohio Valley and the Northern Plains.

A belt of rain and snow extended from the Central Plateau region to the west slopes of the Rockies. Light rain fell in the Pacific Northwest.

Colder air spread south and eastward yesterday in the wake of the storm and temperatures dropped 10 to 20 degrees, into the 30s and 40s, in the Southeast. In Charlotte, N. C., the drop was from 61 to 38. Meanwhile, readings moderated in Texas and the Western Plains.

It was generally cold east of the Rockies today except in Florida and Southeastern states and southern parts of the Gulf states.

Coldest region again today was the Northern Plains with more below zero readings. It was -19 in Minot, N. D.

Many people, who have never spent a day in a medical university, foolishly believe that they can advise their friends how to treat an illness. They mean well, but can cause serious harm.

The proper diagnosis of a disease is an art that a physician acquires only after years of study and internship training in a hospital. It is more important to treat the cause of an illness than to just relieve discomfort, which is usually the most any self treatment accomplishes. When you are sick be guided by your physician.

FFA Here Votes Awards for Two
Advisor Chosen For
Honorary Membership

The Washington C. H. Future Farmers of America didn't have to look far to find the top candidates for the honorary chapter farmer award which they make annually to the adults in the community who have done most to further the chapter's program.

They selected as their 1956 honorary chapter farmers Don Mercer, vo-ag instructor and FFA advisor at the high school here, and Fred Rost, clerk of the city school board.

Rost's office is an easy stone's throw from the FFA chapter room where the boys elected him to the honor. Mercer's office is even closer; it is the chapter room.

Having elected their advisor an honorary chapter farmer, the boys decided to dress him to fit the role.

AN FFA member reported, "It was brought out at the meeting that the advisor was wearing a T-shirt with West Virginia on the front. (Mercer taught in West Virginia last year). The chapter voted to buy Mercer a new T-shirt with Washington C. H. on the front."

Rost and Mercer will receive their honorary chapter farmer pins at the annual parents and sons banquet on March 17.

Other business of the meeting included setting up the machinery for selection of the FFA queen for the chapter. The girl must be a senior at WHS, must have an average of C or better in her high school subjects and must live on a farm of ten acres or more.

Dan Schlichter was chosen to head the committee which will draw up a list of the qualifying candidates. Other members of the committee are the seniors in the chapter.

Arrests Dwindle
During Bad Weather

During the recent bad weather arrests here have been few and as a result municipal court cases have dwindled to almost nothing.

Friday morning Judge Max Dice had three cases, two of which were against the same man—Robert P. Foster, city, who was charged with driving 49 miles on South Fayette Street and for failing to stop for a stop sign.

On the first charge he drew $5 and costs and on the second charge a similar fine, but the fine in the latter case was suspended upon payment of the fine in the first case.

The other case was that of Richard L. Martin, McArthur, for passing a school bus while it was discharging pupils. Martin failed to appear, and his $25 bond was declared forfeited.

PAY INCREASED
SABINA — Salaries of firemen were increased by council, in the sum of $25 yearly. The fire chief draws $150 per year; two volunteer engineers $125 a year and 12 regular volunteers $100 per year.

David Parkinson
Traps Car Thieves

Charles David Parkinson, son of City Manager and Mrs. James F. Parkinson, who is a sophomore and member of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps, at Ohio State University, was highly commended by the Columbus Police Department and Sohio Oil Co. for bringing about the arrest of three desperadoes, who were driving a stolen car in Columbus.

It all came about when the trio drove into the Sohio Service Station at Olentangy Boulevard and Fifth Avenue where Parkinson spent part of each night on duty in charge of the station.

The trio ordered gas and oil for the car in which they were riding and which bore Pennsylvania license plates.

Their general appearance and conduct aroused Parkinson's suspicions and this was further increased when they submitted an Ohio Sohio credit card in payment for the gas and oil.

When they left, Parkinson immediately notified the police department, giving license and make of the car, and a few minutes later the trio was halted on Cleveland Avenue and taken to headquarters. It developed they were riding in a car stolen in Pennsylvania, had stolen the credit card in a burglary and were suspected of a series of other crimes.

THE COST OF MEDICAL CARE

★ That the cost of medical care has risen, no one can deny. But the rise has not been out of proportion to the general advance in the cost of living. At the same time the quality of medical service has been immeasurably improved.

Consider that today your physician has invested from eight to ten years and about ten thousand dollars in his education alone. He has no chance to earn until he is twenty-six or twenty-seven years old. He must have an office in a good neighborhood, good equipment, a car, good clothes.

Pharmacy, too, has stepped up its standards. Almost every state now requires four years of college and a year or two of practice before registration. All this adds up to better medical service for you.
